Target Audience
This course is designed for Family Practice, Internal Medicine, Medical Oncology, Radiation Oncology, Surgical Oncology, OB/GYN, Nurse Practitioner, Physician’s Assistant, Residents and Cancer Researchers.

Purpose and Content
The purpose of this program is to evaluate the most current information regarding cancer surveillance, management, and ethical implications.

Educational Objectives
- After attending the symposium, participants will be able to:
  - Identify the medical and social needs of cancer survivors
  - Describe present day challenges for cancer surveillance
  - Discuss impact of cancer diagnosis and quality of life outcomes
  - Provide guidance regarding community resources and follow-up care for survivors

Accreditation
The University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation
The University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center designates this live activity for a maximum of 2 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. The presentation, Survivorship and Quality of Life, has been designated by The University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center for 1 in medical ethics and professional responsibility.

Conflict of Interest
It is UT Southwestern's policy that participants in CME activities should be made aware of any affiliation or financial interest that may affect the speaker's presentation(s). Each speaker has completed and signed a conflict of interest statement.

Program Accessibility
Because this course is meant to educate physicians with what is currently in use and what may be available in the future, there may be "off-label" use discussed in the presentations. Speakers have been requested to inform the audience when off-label use is being discussed.
